Modifying the Ozone Website

In order to make changes to the Ozone website, Please clone the git repository for the website from this address

```
git clone --branch master git@github.com:apache/ozone-site.git
```

- master branch contains the source of the generated site
- asf-site branch contains the generated site

Rendering is handled by a github action, it's enough to modify only the source branch (master). Github action will generate a new site and commit it to the asf-site branch, and INFRA scripts will publish the site.

To check your local modification you can use Hugo:

```
hugo serve
```