

Make Struts throw exceptions on missing properties, or log them

Start by setting devMode to true:

```
<constant name="struts.devMode" value="true"/>
```

To log missing properties, then:

```
<constant name="struts.ognl.logMissingProperties" value="true" />
```

To throw exceptions when a property is missing, or when an exception occurs while evaluating an expression (this will break the pages if there is a problem on the expression):

```
<constant name="struts.el.throwExceptionOnFailure" value="true" />
```
